

Federiga Bindi

Dr. Federiga Bindi joined the Brookings Center on the United States and Europe (CUSE) as a Visiting Fellow in January 2008. She holds the Jean Monnet Chair in European Political Integration and is a researcher at the University of Rome Tor Vergata, where she is also the Founding Director of the European Office – European Centre of Excellence. In the past she has taught at the University of Florence; Sciences Po in Lille, France; and at the Italian campuses of several American universities, including NYU, SUNY-FIT, CSU, University of Florence, John Cabbot, American University of Rome, and Florence University of the Arts.

Dr. Bindi has extensive experience in European and international politics. She has worked in government as a Personal Secretary to the Italian Deputy Minister for Foreign Affairs and as an advisor to the Italian Deputy Minister of International Trade and the Italian Minister of European Affairs. She also served as an advisor to the Italian Embassy in Lisbon during the Portuguese Presidency of the EU and to the European Commission and the Council of Europe. She was the International Secretary of an Italian moderate political party and has represented Italy in a number of European organizations and fora. She is currently advisor on Global Governance to the Italian Minister of Foreign Affairs.

Dr. Bindi holds a Ph.D. in Political Science from the European University Institute (Florence). She previously graduated magna cum laude in Comparative Politics from the University of Florence and has also studied in Paris at the Institut d'Études Politiques and at the University of Oslo, Norway.

She has been a visiting researcher at NUIPI, Norwegian Institute for International Affairs (Oslo), at the Université Libre de Bruxelles, Institut d'Etudes Européennes (Bruxelles), at the Instituto Ciências Sórias, Universidade de Lisboa and at the Universidade Católica de Portugal, both in Lisbon and at Sciences.Po.(IEP), Paris.

Dr. Bindi has published widely in Italian, English, Portuguese and Spanish for Oxford University Press, NOMOS Verlagsgesellschaft (Berlin), Le Lettere (Florence), Marsilio (Venice), Dartmouth (London), Kluwer Law (London), Sage (London), Garland (New York). She has also written articles for Analise Social, Australasian Journal of European Integration, Europa-Europe, Affari Internazionali, La Società, and European Voice. She just completed an edited a volume for Brookings on the EU foreign policy and she is currently finishing a book entitled Italy and the European Union for Palgrave.